

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF PUBLIC PROCUREMENT

Mission. The International Journal of Public Procurement (IJoPP) seeks to advance public procurement globally by exploring theories and sharing best practices of public procurement keyed to:

- Functional areas, including but not limited to procurement policy, procurement strategic planning and scheduling, contract formation, contract administration, evaluation, and procurement methods and techniques;
- Substantive areas such as government procurement laws and regulations, procurement economics and politics, and procurement ethics; and
- Topical issues such as e-Procurement, procurement transparency, and green procurement.

IJoPP covers government procurement in developed and developing nations. It will include research studies, narrative essays, exemplar cases—both good and bad—from past experiences, commentaries, book reviews, and occasionally, reprints of informative published government reports.

Background. IJoPP provides research-based, in-depth analysis of government procurement by some of the world's leading educators, executives, and practitioners.

Audience. IJoPP serves procurement officials in all areas of the public sector, vendors and contractors who provide goods and services to public entities, researchers, the general public, and particularly members of the International Public Procurement Conference network, and libraries.

Subscription Information. IJournal of Public Procurement is currently published two times per year. The subscription rate for Volume 1 (2011) is as follows:

Individual and Government Rate	$225.00 (+ $10.00, foreign postage)
